‘Together, we have the power to inspire, connect and deliver on new opportunities and rich experiences that can open doors to innovation and progress.’

Dear parents

Greetings from team DWPS!

In DWPS, it is a trend to offer a friendly and imaginative environment where students are encouraged to discover and develop individual talents. Academic excellence is achieved through strong motivation, challenging curriculum, constant encouragement and excellent learning. Thus the students have evolved considerably over the years and have undertaken various ambitious programmes of expansion and development.

The school is blessed to have a robust infrastructure giving it a universal façade. The vision, mission and value system is deeply ingrained in every inmate of the school. We feel elated to apprise you about the strategic and routine plans of the school which will give you an insight into the futuristic developments of it.

Educational Partnership through MOU with GDS, Spain

It was undoubtedly a moment of pride and jubilation for DWPS for being a part of an Educational Partnership by signing the Memorandum of Understanding with Gredos San Diego, S. Coop. Madrid (GDS). DWPS was represented by the esteemed Director of the school, Dr. Saiyam Sahni and GDS, Spain was represented by the Chief Executive, Mr. Alberto Vicente Pescador. The students of both the countries will work collaboratively to explore the entrenched culture and heritage of the two nations. This is not a maiden effort by the school in this field as an Exchange Programme with a reputed school of France is already underway and students will reciprocate their visit to know more about France and enrich their experience.

Tete a tete - strengthening the bond between teacher and the taught

Tete a tete is a very successful programme, the school takes pride in as it strengthens the bond of the teacher not just with the child but with the entire family. Tete a tete has been successfully implemented by teachers for three successive years and it has proved to be a valuable tool to increase parent’s involvement in their kid’s education. The positive, proactive contact and communication has worked wonders for our students. Parents need to contact the Class Teacher if they wish their ward’s teacher to visit their home for bridging the home - school gap.

Green Hope – educate, engage and empower young people

Green Hope is another outstanding programme with a futuristic approach. It has helped in raising awareness amongst all sections of civilised society about sustainable development. It has brought out a latent passion in children about ‘Environment Academics’. After three successful years of implementation, this year the school has taken upon itself the challenge and responsibility of planting at least 10,000 saplings in order to be the ‘Change makers’ evolving students to become ambassadors of sustainability. Movies and videos are shown to students, children wear a badge to acknowledge that they are voluntarily ready for participation and Flash mobs have played its role of educating the people.

International Education Week – Culmination in international amalgamation during ‘Global Waves’

International Education Week has attained sensational heights in school after having organised it for consecutive three years, providing international learning and creating memories to last a lifetime. It is truly a reflection of the spirit of cooperation and collaboration in order to break the boundaries and appreciate and adopt the leading world cultures. This year the mega event will be organised in July where the costume, culture, cuisine and craft of different Asian countries will be showcased in the form of a cultural programme and exhibition.

Workshops –a way to enhance Parent Interaction and Involvement

To make a difference in the area of parenting, the school focuses on enriching interactive sessions through well designed and researched workshops. They have been conducted in the past and will continue to be held interspersed in the regular routine. The workshops cover a diverse range of topics such as health and diet, dealing with stress, adolescence issues and well- being and many other topics related to various aspects of parenting. The School Counsellor along with the very experienced Senior Counsellor has already planned to put up workshops to enlighten our parent fraternity with their words of wisdom.

Experiential Learning – Leading to Lifelong Learning

Educating through first – hand experience is lifelong learning. Experiential learning has been the method of imparting lessons where students acquire skill, knowledge and experience outside the confines of the traditional classrooms through internships, studies abroad, field trips, field research and service – learning projects and myriad other ways. Such learning which goes beyond the classrooms, ensure higher level of retention and enhance knowledge and skills.

In DWPS, teachers focus on this kind of informal learning by doing and are deft in creating their own teaching aids. The Teachers’ Handbook of Activities shows it all. Each teacher, equipped with her own Handbook, has a useful resource with a wealth of content to bring theory and practice together.

Curriculum Committee – assuring qualitative enhancement

In order to strengthen the roots of academic growth of each individual, a Curriculum Committee comprising of the Vice Principal, Headmistress, Academic Coordinator, Class Reps and Subject Heads has been formed as per directives of CBSE. The Committee will delve deep into the pedagogical practices and ensure qualitative enrichment of students.

Newspaper in Education and HT PACE activities – Bringing the world into the classroom

HT PACE (Partnership for Action in Education) is a trusted partner of schools, which continuously endeavours to add value to education and a new dimension to classroom teaching. The concept of Newspaper in Education (NIE) has made the newspaper an integral part of a child’s curriculum bringing about significant value addition. NIE is conducted in the classes for transforming children into informed and knowledgeable individuals. Their listening, reading, writing and speaking skills are honed for comprehension and communication.

The school is designed to provide excellent education to the students. After earning accolades for innovations in methodologies and technology for education, the school is all set to offer academic excellence.

Warm regards

Ms. Jyoti Arora

Principal
